

Lewis & Clark Law School
Honor Roll of Donors

2007-08

Richard Keller, Ruth Keller, and Libby Keller McCaslin J.D. '87

Dear Alumni and Friends:

The academic year welcomed our new dean, Bob Klonoff, who defined his vision for the Law School and set the challenge for our development goals for the years ahead: “reinforcing our faculty through a significant increase in endowed chairs; bringing to campus speakers of the highest caliber and national prominence, adding a substantial international component to the legal education we offer; improving and expanding our facilities; and boosting support for scholarships such that we may attract the most talented and diverse students to Lewis & Clark Law School.”

With these ambitious fundraising goals, one focus this year was on expanding donor and alumni opportunities to meet the dean and hear his vision. Our team accompanied the dean to alumni receptions, cultivation dinners, and donor visits. We continue to have tremendous support from the faculty and the alumni relations team setting up visits with donors around the country. We were received with great energy and excitement as the academic year rolled out an exceptional program of speakers and events.

The faculty also demonstrated their endorsement of the dean and the fund-raising priorities with 100 percent participation in giving this past year. Impressed by the success of faculty participation, the Alumni Board of Directors, led by John Kodachi '92, also finished the fiscal year with all members donating a gift to the school. With the example of faculty and alumni board participation and energized by the vision of the dean, our alumni giving this past year was 14.7 percent, a 14 percent increase over last year.

Our overall results this year were tremendous. Total gifts for the fiscal year were $1,822,764, an 82 percent increase over last fiscal year. These results were due to the generosity and loyalty of special friends and alumni. John and Susan Bates and their family came forward with a leadership gift to show their support for the new dean and the school by endowing their Business Law Scholarship. Our campaign to honor Judge Robert E. Jones '53 with an endowed chair in advocacy and ethics is underway. The campaign Leadership Committee, comprised of alumni and friends of Judge Jones, successfully secured significant lead gifts from the business and legal community.

The Honor Roll of Donors for 2007-08 recognizes all of you who have made a contribution to the Law School this year to support the annual fund, clinical programs, faculty, and scholarships. We want to specially recognize the volunteer efforts of our class agents, who provide an invaluable personal connection that reaches back over 58 years since graduation. Our recent alums are also represented and have increased their participation and support. This next year we will initiate our Recent Alumni Giving Society (RAGS) to recognize and thank our newer graduates for their gifts through social events with faculty and peers to keep them engaged and updated on how their gifts make a difference.

The Gantenbein Society, our giving society of donors who contribute $5,000 or more annually, continues to welcome new members and celebrate together at their annual social event. We also recognized the Gantenbein Society gifts and the contribution of all our scholarship donors on April 4 at the second Annual Scholarship Recognition Dinner. The event this year was attended by more than 150 donors, students, and faculty.

The Elliott Circle of Friends is our planned giving society that recognizes those who have named the Law School as a beneficiary in their will. We welcomed new members and are grateful for their consideration and thoughtfulness. We also said goodbye to our wonderful friend Jack Kennedy, who passed away in March of this year. His estate gift will continue his memory and love for the school with an endowed scholarship for evening students in perpetuity. The estate gift of Don Bain in memory of his son, Jeffrey Bain '85, will provide support for scholarly research and we honor our noted faculty who benefit from this endowment: Bill Funk, Jennifer Johnson, and Lydia Loren.

It was a year of beginnings, celebrations, honors, and farewells. Every year we share our stories and recognize the generosity of all our donors. Thank you for your gifts, for your stories, for your inspiration, and your energy. Exciting things are truly happening for our school and we will continue to work toward the vision of the new dean with your support and friendship.

All the best,

Barbara Zappas

In Memory of Jack Kennedy '51

Our esteemed friend and colleague, longtime Portland lawyer and former Oregon State Bar President Jack Kennedy, died on March 18.

Jack was born in Portland on January 30, 1924, and was raised in Astoria. He briefly attended the U.S. Maritime Commission Academy at the outset of World War II and served in the U.S. Navy during the war. As a Navy signalman second class, Kennedy served throughout the Pacific theater. He maintained his semaphore skills and his enthusiasm for boating for the rest of his life.

In 1947, Kennedy enrolled in the evening program of the Law School. He set academic records and graduated first in his class. A trial lawyer emphasizing business litigation and domestic relations, Kennedy began his legal practice with Krause, Evans & Lindsay. Later, he practiced with Kennedy, King & Zimmer and Kennedy, Watts, Arellano & Ricks. In 2001, the Oregon State Bar honored him for his 50 years in the legal profession. Until his death, he remained actively engaged in the practice of law and served as a mentor to the lawyers with whom he worked.

"Jack was simply the best lawyer I know," says Kennedy's longtime law partner Judge Garr M. King '63. "He was willing and able to take on any case or problem. He represented his clients aggressively and fairly. He loved being a lawyer and gave back to the profession in many ways. He was a wonderful law partner."

Kennedy was active in numerous Oregon bar activities. He served on the board of governors from 1976 to 1979 and as president of the Oregon State Bar in 1979. He was one of the founders of the Professional Liability Fund and served on its board of directors from 1979 to 1982. Kennedy also was a delegate to the American Bar Association House of Delegates from 1984 to 1988, was a charter fellow of the Oregon Law Foundation, served on several bar committees, and acted as bar counsel in disciplinary matters. Among his many distinctions, he was a fellow in the American College of Trial Lawyers, and served as state chair.

Kennedy continued his involvement with the Law School well beyond graduation. Initially, he served as registrar and taught classes. In later years, Kennedy was a Law School trustee, participated in the merger of the Law School with Lewis & Clark College, and subsequently served as a member of the Board of Overseers, the Law School Committee of Lewis & Clark College, and the Board of Visitors. He received the Distinguished Graduate Award in 1983.

To the end, Kennedy was amazed that he had had the opportunity to become a lawyer. He expressed his gratitude and his lifelong commitment to evening law school education by establishing the Jack L. Kennedy Fund for Working Evening Law Students at Lewis & Clark. Many of his friends, touched by his intelligence and kindness, added to his gift by donating to the fund. We will remember and honor Kennedy with the annual award of this scholarship in perpetuity.

John and Susan Bates with daughter-in-law Michelle Bertolino Bates and son Christopher Bates.

John and Susan Bates, longtime friends of Lewis & Clark, have supported an annual business law scholarship for many years. Last fall, the Bates family underscored their commitment to the Law School when they announced to Dean Klonoff they would make a family gift of $200,000 to endow a scholarship for students studying business law. The John and Susan Bates Family Endowed Scholarship for Business Law will provide for an annual scholarship of $10,000.

As the endowment grows, the investment will yield annual funding for additional awards. The Bates family's generosity will serve the students and the school in perpetuity.

Why did the family choose to give so generously to the Law School?

"The Bates family has been developing an ever-closer relationship with Lewis & Clark Law School," says John Bates. "Susan and I have been active in the selection of previous Bates Scholarship recipients. Reading the files submitted by students applying for the scholarship has driven home the quality of the students, the huge financial commitment, and the impact a gift can have on a selected scholar. It is through the process of selecting scholars, working closely with faculty, and participating in other Law School activities that we have developed a very high regard for the Law School faculty and administration.

"It is our family's wish to encourage students to seek a career in business law, and perhaps in the specialty of securities litigation. We believe in the mission of the Law School and the strength of the faculty and students. It is our hope that this scholarship will not only award a student, but will reflect our continuing support."

Professorship Honors Judge Robert E. Jones '53

Kalman Zemplyny II, Dean Bob Klonoff, Kenneth Wright, Hon. Robert Jones '53, Bill Wegner, Pearl Jones, and Jeff Jones.

Lewis & Clark Law School has recognized an alumnus for a lifetime of outstanding work by establishing the Judge Robert E. Jones Professorship in Advocacy and Ethics. "This endowment is not for me, but for the best and brightest professors in the nation who possess exceptional expertise in legal ethics, evidence, and advocacy," noted Jones in his remarks at the September event during which Dean Robert Klonoff announced the professorship. "We all know that ethical behavior and solid knowledge of evidence law are essential for those who choose to be litigation specialists in any field of law. We also should recognize not only the professors selected for this endowment, but the benefit to those students who will learn the art of advocacy from the future recipients of this award."

The Judge Robert E. Jones Professor will be announced in 2009.

Named by Governor Victor Atiyeh to the Oregon Supreme Court in 1982 and appointed federal judge for the U.S. District Court of Oregon in 1990, Jones served on the adjunct faculty at the Law School from 1964 to 1984. He is known for championing effective advocacy and ethical practices, exemplifying the tradition of excellence that is the hallmark of Lewis & Clark.

Why I Give

My name is David J. Fennell and I graduated from the Law School in 2000.

I served as a judge advocate and captain with the U.S. Marine Corps in Kaneohe Bay, Hawaii, from the time of my graduation until 2004. Following my honorable discharge, I practiced commercial litigation and, subsequently, corporate law with two different Colorado law firms. In 2006,

I left the practice of law to found Law Q, a successful legal recruiting and employment boutique located in Denver. I also rejoined the U.S. Marine Corps Reserves as a major assigned to Marine Air Control Squadron 23 at Colorado's Buckley Air Force Base, where I acted as an operations officer and detachment commander.

Our unit recently received orders that it would be activated and deployed to Iraq this summer.

As part of my preparations for deployment, I created an estate plan that includes a gift to the Law School. There were two reasons for my decision to include Lewis & Clark in my gifting plan. First, I believe that the Law School is an excellent learning institution and that it played a critical part in my post-graduation successes. Second, I want to create an endowed scholarship opportunity at the Law School for students who have backgrounds and aspirations similar to my own, students who exhibit a patriotic heart and an entrepreneurial spirit. I believe these qualities are key to the security and success of the United States, and I want to support those students who will contribute to this country through military service or the building of business.

I am proud both of my service to my country and of my ability to assist those future law students at Lewis & Clark who feel the same as I do.

Volunteer Spirit 2007-08

Each year, the Law School recognizes and thanks its many alumni and friends who donate funds that enable the school to sustain its tradition of excellence. In addition to those who offer financial support, there are a group of people who donate their valuable time and energy. Without the many alumni and friends who regularly devote significant amounts of time to the Law School's numerous programs and endeavors, it would be difficult to recruit such a high-quality student body and to coordinate the many programs and events offered to law students and the legal community.

Please take a moment to recognize those people who have generously given their time and energy to the Law School over the past academic year.

Alumni Association Board of Directors

Through outreach activities and participation, the Alumni Association enhances the positive connections among the Law School, its graduates, and its students. It provides encouragement before admission, as well as joint activities and job support during the law school experience and upon graduation. After graduation, the board seeks to support and maintain the sense of community that was initially fostered at the Law School. The following served on the board for 2007-08:
